

Ike May Make Tour In Bid For GOP Win

Plan Calls For Trip Into Key States

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House said today that a last-minute political tour by President Eisenhower is under consideration, but no decision has been reached.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty repeated that this is still the situation, in the face of speculation that Eisenhower will surely make the trip.

It would carry him into key states in an effort to help Republican candidates in next Tuesday's elections.

The expectation that Eisenhower will decide to go was based on forenoon information from Hagerty that Eisenhower has been asked to make the trip by the party's national committee and that he "would like" to.

But Hagerty added that Eisenhower "has a lot of work to do here, too."

Late Tuesday Hagerty repeated that no decision has been made.

As Hagerty put it, Eisenhower "would like to speak to the people of the country and to workers in the political organization of the Republican party to see that everybody gets out and votes on election day."

If the trip should materialize, there might be a flight to Detroit on Friday, with stopovers at Louisville, Ky., and Waterloo, Iowa, to be followed by visits on Saturday to Minneapolis, Boston and Wilmington, Del. One report said the President might also go into Ohio.

Eisenhower may disclose his decision at Wednesday's White House news conference.

Aside from the tour the National Committee wants the President to make, he is already down for two speeches. One will be Thursday night and another next Monday night on the eve of the elections.

Field To Remain In Poland To Try To Regain Health

LONDON (AP)—Hermann Field cabled his wife Tuesday that he plans to stay a while in Poland and recuperate from effects of his five years in a Communist prison camp.

This announcement in London coincided with advice to the State Department in Washington that the 44-year-old Cleveland architect is in a Polish sanatorium and has informed U. S. Ambassador Joseph Plack in Warsaw that he wants to rest there in an attempt to regain his health.

The Polish government announced it had freed Field from an imprisonment which began in 1949 when the American vanished behind the Iron Curtain while looking for his brother, Noel Field, the latter disappeared in May 1949 in Czechoslovakia and subsequently was believed to be in Budapest, Hungary, Noel Field's wife, Herta, and his adopted daughter, Mrs. Erica Wallach, also disappeared in Communist Europe.

Mrs. Kate Margaret Field, Hermann's English wife, said here she has received a telegram from him saying he is longing to return to her and his two sons, Alan, 9, and Hugh, 11. But she said he wanted to recuperate a short while first.

Seat Three Substitute Jurors In Sheppard Murder Trial

CLEVELAND (AP)—Three more substitute jurors were seated Tuesday at Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard's murder trial. One of them broke down in tears and begged in vain that she not be forced to try him for his life.

"I would just not like to be on this case," sobbed Mrs. Genevieve A. Peasey, who works as a packer in a biscuit factory.

Nevertheless, the red-haired blond woman was seated as a juror, since she held no unshakable opinion on the case. She is subject to later exclusion at the whim of either the state or the defense.

For the first time, the state hinted it may be satisfied with the present jury. One of its lawyers declined to tell a reporter if there are any more challenges in mind and added:

"We might be satisfied."

The defense would not say whether it planned additional peremptory challenges. The defense has four left and the state three.

Only 13 persons were left out of an original panel of 75 prospective jurors. However, the judge said a

217 Dead In Salerno After Torrential Rains

SALERNO, Italy (AP)—The worst cloudbursts and landslides in modern Italian history Tuesday battered 10 miles of coastal hills on the Gulf of Salerno, killing 217 persons or more. Three hundred others were still missing Tuesday night.

The death count was compiled by military police on emergency rescue duty in the disaster area. Hundreds were injured and thousands of Italians living beside the usually temperate gulf were homeless. Damage was estimated in millions of dollars.

13 Puerto Ricans Sentenced For Conspiracy

NEW YORK (AP)—A federal judge Tuesday sentenced 13 Puerto Rican nationalists to six years each for seditious conspiracy although he doubted the punishment would teach them a lesson.

"I am convinced that we are dealing here with a dedicated group, a group dedicated to force and violence," Judge Lawrence E. Walsh said.

"I am convinced that that dedication is so deep-rooted it probably is beyond the reach of this court," he added in giving the conspirators the maximum prison term possible. He also could have levied $5,000 fines for the crime which embraces plotting the violent overthrow of the United States government by force.

All 13 sat with heads bowed as Judge Walsh ordered them jailed. One, Dolores (Lolita) Lebron, 34, clutched a prayer book and read passages occasionally.

She and three others already have been sentenced to various terms ranging from 16 to 75 years for shooting five congressmen in a berserk outburst in the House of last March.

The others were Rafael Cancel Miranda, 23, Irvin Flores Rodriguez, 29, and Andres Figueroa Cordero, 29. Judge Walsh directed Tuesday's sentence be served in addition to the sentences for the Washington assaults.

During the trial of the conspirators here, witnesses testified they planned attacks on other U. S. officials, including President Eisenhower, to further nationalist aims for Puerto Rican independence.

McCarthy Charges Prejudice By Three Of Censure Unit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy made a "prejudice" charge Tuesday against three members of the special Senate committee which recommended that he be censured for some of his official actions.

The Wisconsin senator also accused Sen. Watkins (R-Utah), committee chairman of "ducking" requests that he testify before McCarthy's Senate investigations subcommittee.

McCarthy made public a letter to Watkins, in which he said: "It is now unquestioned that three members of the committee, including yourself, indicated prejudice toward me before you were selected to act on that committee and failed to tell the vice president of your statement in that regard before he appointed you to this committee."

"This would appear to be a deliberate deception of the vice president and a fraud upon the Senate which obviously intended that an unprejudiced committee be appointed."

McCarthy's challenge of half the membership of the committee—it is made up of three Republicans and three Democrats—was the prelude to Senate debate of the censure motion when it meets in extraordinary session Nov. 8.

Watkins said in Salt Lake City he had not yet received McCarthy's letter and added:

"I'm not going to be provoked into any diversions whatsoever."

"I think it's unethical for me to start arguing this matter before the Senate considers it and before the official report has actually been filed with the Senate."

NEARLY 60 PER CENT CORN CROP HARVESTED

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Nearly 60 per cent of the Illinois corn crop is picked, the State-Federal Agriculture Departments and the Weather Bureau said Tuesday.

The figure compared with 80 per cent at this time a year ago and an annual late October average of less than half the crop.

Northern Illinois farmers, hampered by wet soil, picked less than a third of their crop while about two-thirds of the rest of the state's crop was harvested.

All but about 10 per cent of the soybeans are combined. Combining lags most in the northeastern counties, which had fewer good field working days.

QUEEN MOTHER ELIZABETH

British Queen Mother Arrives In New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Queen Mother Elizabeth of Britain sailed into New York Tuesday on the huge liner which bears her name for a 25-day visit in the United States.

The Queen Mother chatted with officers on the bridge of the Cunard liner for an hour as the vessel moved into its North River dock—some 12 hours late because of Atlantic storms.

For a time it was feared there would be still more delay if haze over the harbor prevented the ship from making the 4.45 p.m. slack tide.

The ship was met by about 1,000 persons, many of them waving the British and American flags.

The Queen Mother, still standing on the bridge, wore a pastel blue outfit with a matching hat.

Above her the ship was dressed with pennants from stem to stern, the Queen's standard flying from the mainmast aft.

Philosopher Evens Continue Hunt Or Betters Score Against Vishinsky

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Charles Malik, Lebanon's philosopher delegate, today turned a barbed quotation directed against him by Andrei Y. Vishinsky right back at the Soviet delegate.

Malik is a former professor of philosophy. Vishinsky is a former lawyer.

Monday in a reference to Malik's ground, Vishinsky quoted the passage from the German poet Heinrich Heine: "Seventy-seven professors! On my fatherland, thou art done for!"

Malik did a little research Monday night and returned this morning with another quotation from the same work.

"Seventy-seven lawyers! On my fatherland, thou art betrayed!"

Several Arab delegates, including Malik, have been charging in debate in the 60-member political committee here that disarmament is being undermined by "ideological warfare" of the Soviet Union against the Free World. Vishinsky has been replying with quotations from Lenin and Stalin, and other arguments which he claims refute the Arab charges.

Churchill Rejects Russia's Bid For Big Four Meeting

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill in an exchange with Leflitz Laporte Aneurin Bevan Tuesday turned down Russia's latest bid for a Big Four conference on German reunification.

The Soviet bid was issued Saturday as the Western Allies reached agreement in Paris on West German rearmament.

Churchill did not renounce his own proposal of a year and a half ago for a "conference at the summit" with the Soviet and French premiers and President Eisenhower. But he told the House of Commons the present is not the time for Big Four talks while the Western parliaments still must ratify the agreements to rearm West Germany and give it sovereignty.

Bevan said the public could not understand why Churchill declared "he is ready for high level talks with the Russians, and whenever they invite him to have them, he declines."

When the Prime Minister replied, "I don't know what invitation you are referring to," Bevan snapped:

"The last one from the Soviet Union."

"That was a general invitation to a four-power conference," Churchill remarked, "and at this particular stage when agreements reached in Western Europe have still to be ratified, I do not think the moment has been reached for a four-power conference."

Russia Has Set Off 'Increase In Jobs Nationwide' Series Of Atomic Blasts Recently

WASHINGTON (AP)—A whole series of atomic blasts has been set off in Russia during the past five weeks or so—suggesting that the Reds may have developed or are working on a "family" of nuclear weapons, including artillery shells.

The U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, in a terse announcement late Tuesday, said:

"The chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission Lewis Strauss stated that there had been a series of detonations of nuclear explosives in Soviet territory."

"This series began in mid-September and has continued at intervals to the present."

Britain Warns Strike Imperils Other Trades

LONDON (AP)—The Churchill government warned Tuesday that Britain's waterfront strike is becoming so serious it imperils other trades.

At the same time, the Assn. of said continuation of the dock stoppage would cause chaos in industry.

A few hundred London dockers defied warning picket lines and walked back to their jobs.

But some 45,000 men are out at the ports of London, Southampton, Manchester, Hull, Liverpool, Birkenhead, Glasgow and Rochester in a protest against compulsory overtime work. Almost 450 million dollars worth of imports and exports are tied up and 354 ships are idle.

The government still held back on sending in troops to unload ships and handle essential supplies, in the hope the strike may collapse soon.

Meetings of striking dockers have been called for Wednesday in London and Southampton by the huge Transport and General Workers Union, which has condemned the outbreak as unofficial and backed by communists.

Fire Eight Shots At Egypt's Premier

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt (AP)—Eight pistol shots were fired at Egypt's Revolutionary Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser Tuesday night as he addressed a huge rally celebrating the signing of the British-Egyptian Suez agreement.

A group of suspected assassins was seized by the crowd and hauled off by police.

Officials identified all the four under arrest as members of the fanatical, extreme nationalist Muslim Brotherhood.

Nasser was not hurt but two minor officials sitting near him were wounded slightly.

The eight shots fired in deliberately spaced succession brought a hush for a few seconds from the thousands packed in Alexandria's Liberation Square five minutes after Nasser began speaking.

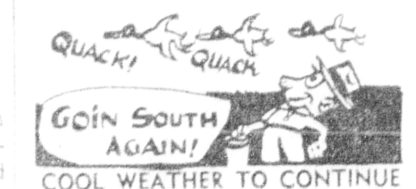

Then the young leader shouted into the microphone in a voice rasping with emotion:

"Let them kill me! I have already established freedom, dignity and pride in Egypt!"

Trieste's Great Day Arrives, U. S., British Leave

TRIESTE (AP)—The United States and Britain gave Trieste back to Italy Tuesday in a rowdy farewell thrown into utter confusion by rain, wind and a wild celebration.

The weather washed out the formalities but failed to daunt the Trieste. They surged about the city by the tens of thousands to cheer the entry of Italian troops after nine years of British-American occupation.

They provided an almost equally tumultuous farewell for departing American troops. But the high wind that swept across the northern Adriatic forced the royal navy aircraft carrier Centaur to sail away ahead of schedule with departing British troops. They left virtually unnoticed.

This dashed plans for a formal parade by honor guards of British, American and Italian soldiers planned to mark the change of command. Hearing of the Centaur's departure Maj. Gen. John A. Dabney, American commander, canceled his troops' appearance.

Then the crowd got into the act and spoiled the only formality left on the program—a final meeting between Dabney, British Maj. Gen. Sir John Winterton, Allied military governor, and his successor, Italian Maj. Gen. Edmondo de Renzi.

70-Year-Old Reenlists For Six More Years In Air Force

WASHINGTON (AP)—Seventy-year-old German-born Horat W. Tittel reenlisted today for six more years in the Air Force.

Secretary of Air Harold Talbot administered the oath to the sturdy, durable little sergeant, who in 46 years of service reached the rank of lieutenant colonel, then chose noncommissioned status so he wouldn't have to retire after World War II. He still holds his rank in the reserves.

Reporters at the swearing in ceremony asked Tittel why he didn't retire when he reached the point where his age and service in the rank of lieutenant colonel would have allowed him to quit and take it easy.

"If you stay in the service," the sergeant said, "you can get up in the morning and know you can go to work. If you're retired, you don't know what to do."

He took his first airplane ride in a Curtiss Jenny at old Hazel Hurst, Lond Island, field back in 1917. He already was a veteran soldier by then. But he recalled back "we only got up five feet, then we turned over." He suffered only scratches.

Tittel was born in Leipzig, Germany, July 30, 1884. He came to the United States 50 years ago. He is believed to be the oldest enlisted member of any of the military services, both in age and in length of service.

Tittel is now assigned as an administrative supervisor in the Alaskan Air Command with headquarters at Anchorage. He was brought here for the special ceremonial swearing in.

HOW REDS CONDUCT 'MODEL' ELECTION

In Red-occupied East Germany, upwards of 12,000,000 voters recently went to the polls to elect new members of parliament.

As we soon will be voting ourselves, how this polling came off is worthy of serious study by every American citizen. For judging from all reports, it was truly a "model" election.

Weeks before it began, the nation's five political parties agreed on a list of candidates. Each party was assigned a number of parliament seats. The men who would run for office were grouped on an unopposed ticket billed as the National Front.

Then began the campaign. Compared to the campaign here, it was ethical in the extreme. Not one party charged another with "creating mass unemployment." Not one party labeled another as "the party of waste and corruption." None of the various candidates sneered at a running mate's record.

The campaign's only objective was to get out a maximum vote, and the voters responded admirably.

Tenants from large apartment houses, and workers from various plants were marched to the polls in groups, almost as soldiers are marched. At the head of the columns were bands, and children with posters and flags. Persons who worked on the night shift were sent off to vote at 3 a.m., before they went home to bed.

There were, as there always are, occasional "trouble-makers"—a sprinkling of men and women who said they did not want to vote. But after a bit of persuasion (some of which had to be physical), most of them saw they were wrong, and quietly joined the march.

As the voters entered their polling place, they were met by four election officials. The first one checked the identity card, carried by every citizen. Election Official 2 handed out printed ballots. The third one held up a ballot box, into which the paper was dropped.

Again there was sometimes a troublemaker, who insisted on voting in private. These had to walk to a booth on the opposite side of the room. Election Official 4 attempted to make it clear that voting in public was much preferred, but the few who did not agree were allowed to enter the booth.

After they cast their ballot, No. 4 asked to see their identity cards and carefully noted their names.

The ballots were cast very swiftly. There was no need to read them or mark them, of course, since the men who were running were not opposed. And to rule out any confusion, space for casting a write-in vote had thoughtfully been omitted.

After the polls had closed, the people were told the results. The turnout had been remarkable: Only 1 percent of the voters—probably those who were sick—had failed to go to the polls. And although the official outcome would not be announced for days, no one doubted reports that virtually all of the ballots had gone to National Front.

It was, as we've noted before, truly a "model" election—a model which illustrates clearly just what it is we are fighting, and what we are fighting to save.

Any American citizen who does not plan to vote in November might do himself one large favor, by carefully mulling it over.

The World Today

By ED CREAGH
(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nothing quite like this has been seen before in the often picturesque history of this republic.

You flipped a switch, you waited for your television screen to come alive, then there you were in the middle of a meeting between the President of the United States and his Cabinet.

The time was 7 p.m. Monday. The place was the Cabinet Room of the White House, its green walls a vague gray on the TV screen. The star though he drew President Eisenhower into the spotlight with him was Secretary of State Dulles.

First you saw the room itself with its long coffin-shaped table. Next the Cabinet members filed in, all men except Secretary of Welfare Oveta Culp Hobby.

Finally, through the same door in the rear, came Dulles, back from Paris only a few hours, and the President, Eisenhower sat down, smiling, folded his hands.

"Mrs. Hobby and gentlemen," he began, and the first Cabinet meeting ever to go on the air, or to be reported by newsmen on the spot, was under way.

What were the reporters and the radio microphones and the TV cameras doing there? When a request was made to open up this meeting, the President said he decided "for this one time" to let all the American people hear a report of vital importance to them.

Then Dulles, his tie a little askew, his fingers fidgeting with a pencil that got read all over them, gave his report: a story of a new spirit of Western unity flowering on the plains of the European Defense Community.

"History," said John Foster Dulles, "will not soon forget."

Dulles spoke fluently, rarely referring to his sheaf of notes.

Dulles wound up with a warm tribute to the President. He said the Paris and London agreements were very largely the result of Eisenhower's leadership. The President, in turn, praised Dulles for a "brilliant" job and said maybe all hands should give him a rising vote of thanks.

NEW YORK (AP)—Every occupation or hobby group in Manhattan has its favorite meeting places.

The college crowd holds raucous "under the clock" in the Biltmore Hotel lobby. Actors hang out at the Algonquin Rhapsody and Sardi's.

Outdoor checker players cluster in Washington Square, hotshot pitchers in Central Park. Musicians and pickpockets in Times Square dog walkers on Park Avenue, professional bums on the Boverly, Army men at the Astor, and politicians at the Men's Bar of the Waldorf.

Clergymen have a rendezvous place, too. They often meet at "Duffy's Tavern"—as many refer to it—as across the street from the New York Public Library's famous twin lions at 41st and Fifth Avenue.

The "Tavern" is the clerical department of Rogers Peet Co., a clothing firm. The department has been run for 30 years by Frank Duffy, who probably knows more clergymen than any other man in America. He travels 40,000 miles annually and outfits some 10,000 priests, ministers and rabbis.

"We've taken care of ministers from every corner of the world," said Duffy. Challenged as to whether he could outfit a Buddhist priest properly, he said:

"Certainly, although I don't know what would happen if he went out without trousers and tried to convince the nearest cop he was a priest."

Duffy said clergymen were relatively easy to please because they know what they want. They don't usually bring a wife along and their tastes change slowly.

"They have a wonderful sense of humor," he said. "They enjoy a good joke, and when they meet here they rarely talk about ecclesiastical or political matters."

The younger clergymen today are taller and more muscular than those of 30 years ago. You run into more and more 6 footers. The average collar size now is 15 to 16, the coat size from 40 to 42.

Among Protestant clergymen there is a trend toward more informality. The double-breasted suit has taken the place of the long coat for daily wear, and the three-button jacket with natural shoulders is even more popular. The old wide-brimmed hat has given way to the homburg.

"Most clergymen today want to find a sensible compromise somewhere between the Broadway drape shape and the out-of-date 'where's-the-corpse' look," Duffy said.

Modern Methods Help Ease Women's Fear of Childbirth

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

It may be assumed, I think, that no man can talk with complete authority about the sensations of childbirth. Certain it is, however, that the pains of childbirth have been the subject of discussion among women since the world began and that many young mothers approach this occasion with fear in their hearts.

An example of this dread comes from a correspondent who writes in part: "I want to ask you what is natural childbirth? With all the potential danger that goes with every pregnancy what is natural about childbirth? I would suggest that some other word be used to describe this agonizing experience."

Who, among us men, can deny the writer?

WE CAN CLAIM, it is true that childbirth is a natural phenomenon in that it has been ordered by nature that human beings should be brought in the world the way they are. We can also cite other members of her sex who have not found childbirth a terrifying or even long-remembered painful experience. Finally, and it is this which seems most significant, there appears to be no doubt whatever that the attitude of a woman toward her confinement exerts a considerable influence on the ease of the labor itself.

Fear of labor, which brings about a more difficult and painful experience than childbirth itself, has brought about studies of what has come to be called "natural childbirth."

The aim of this method of management is to increase the safety of labor and to lessen the pain thereof. It does not involve the elimination of anesthetic pain reducers nor does it mean that labor can be conducted without any pain whatsoever.

THE PRINCIPAL IDEA of "natural childbirth" involves instruction during pregnancy designed to eliminate fear, exercises in relaxation, muscle control and breathing, the skilled management of labor itself, and at the time of delivery, encouragement of the most efficient coordinated muscular efforts.

These principles when employed by physicians who believe in them and have had experience with the methods involved have many advocates both among women and the medical profession.

IT SHOULD BE remembered, however, that many features of the care of mothers before, during and after labor are responsible for the remarkable improvement in the safety of mother and child and that other methods are also available to lessen the pain itself.

Today, the mother in childbirth does not have to rely on calmness and fortitude alone. She does not have to select the pain reliever herself since several methods are almost equally good and the physician in charge of delivery can select the most suitable method on the basis of his experience and the particular demands of the individual occasion.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—How would you like to earn $100,000 for an afternoon's work?

Impossible, you say? Yet Mario Lanza claims he was offered such a deal.

"When I was in Palm Springs last year," said the bulky tenor, "my agent came to me with an offer from the Metropolitan Opera House. Rudolf Bing offered me $100,000 to sing one opera on one of my shows to be sent to various theaters throughout the country via television."

In New York Bing denied making the offer and added: "Who is he? On that film tenor, I heard a few of his records the other day."

I hardly know the man and I'm not altogether sure I would want to. I do know that none of our singers would sing for such chickadee as $100,000.

Actually, Metropolitan's report topped for a single performance about $1,500, averaging perhaps less than $1,000.

Lanza says he turned down the offer. He says he'll accept when the money is $150,000. But he added:

"Money, it is nothing. Absolutely nothing to me. But unfortunately the money is the standard by which you are judged in this business."

Concern over money is one of the principal causes of Lanza's two-year retirement after being on top of the show business world. He had been earning a million a year, yet the United States slapped a lien on his earnings for back income taxes. The blow added to Lanza's emotional upset.

"The government claimed I owed a quarter of a million dollars," he reported. "In the past year I have paid them over a quarter-million, but I am still behind, according to them. I still must pay income tax on the money I earned to pay them!"

He earned $40,000 check for his TV debut—the celebrated "recorder session" went to Uncle Sam.

"But I am very fortunate," Lanza added. "In six or eight months of work, I can wipe out everything I owe."

Judging from his offers, that is no idle boast. His agents report that he has received deals of much more than $50,000 a week from Las Vegas Casinos. Lanza will not consider them. He is opposed to singing in night clubs.

Writer Visits Paradise; Finds Reds Already There

SAN MARINO (NEA)—It is apparently impossible to get away from it all. For the past month, this correspondent and wife have been touring northern Italy in a rented, midsize Italian car. We avoided the big shots as much as possible, toured the back roads, didn't read the newspapers, let the international and economic situations go hang.

This vacation was to be for fun, not to study conditions or feel pines.

One place we sought out was San Marino. As you know, this is one of the smallest, and also claims to be the oldest, republic in the world, dating back to the fourth century. It is roughly six miles by six and has about 12,000 inhabitants. It is located 100 miles or so south of the Venice, entirely surrounded by Italy, from which it is, however, completely independent.

San Marino is situated on the side of a 2,300-foot mountain, half an hour's drive from the Adriatic coast. Its capital town is topped at least by three old castles crowing a sheer drop of a thousand feet or more. It's a real fairy-tale setting and surely this was the place to get away from it all.

How Wrong We Were we didn't learn till later. For the country has a Communist government—the only one outside the Iron Curtain—and they played Frank Sinatra records on the phonograph for dinner music in our hotel. No, you can't get away from it all.

We had arrived just at dusk. No, body had wanted to see passports or check baggage as we crossed the border. A sign over the road at the border said, "Welcome to Free Republic of San Marino."

What The Appeal of communism is to this largely agricultural, wine and cake-exporting country, is a little hard to figure. One of the first acts of the Communists was to shut down the gambling casino, on whose revenues San Marino had been able to exist as a tax-free community for years. Gambling was said to be too capitalistic a pastime.

Since then the government has had to exist on revenues from the sale of postcards and postage stamps bought by the millions and mailed out to folks back home by "frontier." A sign over the road at the border said, "Welcome to Free Republic of San Marino."

What The Appeal of communism is to this largely agricultural, wine and cake-exporting country, is a little hard to figure. and tail-coat was reading a proclamation. At the end, a 60-piece band played what was obviously the San Marino national anthem. A couple hundred of the citizens, assembled on the square for the ceremony, applauded. Then they all paraded down the mountain and went home to supper.

This was the way to run a country. Have bands of 60 and armies of 28 all of them generals or even field marshals. The army, it turned out, was the hereditary Guard of Nobles, centuries old. The ceremony was the semiannual naming of the two "Captains Regent" who would serve as heads of the government for the next six months. They don't come crooks, obviously.

Then "the facts" began to come out. One of the Captains Regent was located 100 miles or so south of the Venice, entirely surrounded by Italy, from which it is, however, completely independent.

San Marino is situated on the side of a 2,300-foot mountain, half an hour's drive from the Adriatic coast. Its capital town is topped at least by three old castles crowing a sheer drop of a thousand feet or more. It's a real fairy-tale setting and surely this was the place to get away from it all.

How Wrong We Were we didn't learn till later. For the country has a Communist government—the only one outside the Iron Curtain—and they played Frank Sinatra records on the phonograph for dinner music in our hotel. No, you can't get away from it all.

We had arrived just at dusk. No, body had wanted to see passports or check baggage as we crossed the border. A sign over the road at the border said, "Welcome to Free Republic of San Marino."

Car Crowded Off Pavement; Four Local Men Hurt

Four Jacksonville men were injured early Tuesday morning while returning from a Standard Oil dealers' meeting at Springfield when the automobile in which they were riding was crowded off the highway by another car two miles west of Alexander. All four were taken to Our Saviour's hospital where two remained Tuesday for further treatment and examination. Still in the hospital are William Yording, 842 Bibb street, who has lacerations and a leg injury which will be X-rayed, and James Storey, 828 West Douglas avenue, suffering from cuts on his head, face and arms.

The condition of both men was reported as satisfactory. Bernard Shamahan, 1629 Hardin avenue, received a chest injury and will return to the hospital for X-rays.

Bob Lewis, 829 South Main street.

Anyone caught depositing dogs in the city of Jacksonville will be arrested. All dogs can be destroyed at any local veterinarian.

The four were traveling west in Shamahan's 1950 Chevrolet, which turned over in a ditch after it left the pavement. The badly damaged car was towed to the Lukeman Motor Co. garage.
Cooney's ambulance took Yording to the hospital; Ralph Shelburn took Stone and Lewis, and Shamahan was taken to the hospital in the sheriff's patrol car by Deputy Harold Wright and Albert Slavens.

Two Jacksonville Men In Wreck At Bloomington

Two Jacksonville State hospital employees are nursing injuries as the result of an automobile-truck collision at Bloomington while they were transporting a patient to Chicago for clinical examination.

Raymond Hart of North Church street, a chauffeur for the State hospital, was accompanied by Bob Bradney, an attendant, who was in charge of the patient.

Bradney sustained a large cut on his head, and Hart has a knee injury. They were taken to a hospital in Bloomington for emergency treatment, then brought to this city by Francis Allen, another driver for the institution.

The patient escaped injury in the accident. Hospital authorities said the collision occurred when a farm truck loaded with corn pulled out of an intersection into the highway.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst
Soviet Russian propagandists are quite accustomed to playing the same tune in several different keys, but for the moment they seem to be having trouble even in deciding what tune they want in connection with Western European Union.

At first, apparently assuming that France was still the big question mark when it comes to ratifying the treaties agreed upon at London and Paris, Moscow sought to play on two French fears—that a rearmaged Germany might once again run amuck in Europe, or that she might drag the rest of Europe into a war for recovery of her eastern territories.

Then it became apparent there was a question about ratification.

Korean Student At College Here Addresses Rotary

The Jacksonville Rotary Club last week welcomed Miss Kyong Jan Paik, Korean student at MacMurray College studying here on a scholarship jointly supplied by the college and the local Rotary Club. Miss Paik was introduced to the club by the Rev. Joseph W. Baus, chairman of the International Service Committee under whose sponsorship she has come here. Other members of the International Service Committee are C. A. Johnson, D. C. Dilz, Wendell S. Dysinger, Arthur Samore, Richard Yates, Rowe and Allyn Wolfe. Robert H. Caldwell is president of the club.

Miss Paik was a guest of the club after being in Jacksonville only a week, having made a flying trip from Korea when the scholarship was assured her. She was recommended to the club as a deserving student by Walter Chung, executive assistant to the prime minister of Korea. She is a music student, a pianist of concert caliber, and although she has the B.A. degree from Ewha Women's College in Seoul, she will be working for a degree at MacMurray College.

The Paik family has been prominent in education, government, and church circles in Korea for many years. Miss Paik's father, a graduate of Brown University in 1905, was a charter member of the Seoul Rotary Club, and one of the founders of Chosen Christian College. He served in the education ministry and taught government and economics at both Chosen College and the University of Korea. The sale of lands he owned enabled him to endow Ewha Girls School in Seoul. He was captured by the Communists during the recent war and it is not known if he is now alive or not. Miss Paik's mother, also a musician, now devotes her time to organizational work with women's groups in Korea.

Why tell me how much I should give to the United campaign?

I FOUND THAT NO ONE IS TELLING ME. HOW MUCH I GIVE IS UP TO ME

That's correct. What you give is entirely up to you. However, since many people have asked what is their fair share of the United campaign quota, a suggested scale of giving has been prepared as a guide. The real rule is to give as the heart dictates. STYLE, POWER, LOWER PRICES FEATURE HARD-TOP

The long, low, distinctive styling of the Studebaker hard-top convertible that has proved so popular throughout the world is accentuated in the new 1955 models by the sweeping effect of chrome side moldings that extend from the headlights, above the massive appearing grille, to the newly styled tail lights. The flowing lines of this President State model are further brought out by hood and fender ornaments. The interiors are styled in diamond pattern nylon and rayon upholstery in complementary colors. Elegance of interior appointments and trim adds to the luxury of the high styling. The new Studebaker "Wildcat" V-8 engine with 175 horsepower gives this model superior performance and roadability. Lower prices prevail throughout the entire new Studebaker line.

WILL YOUR CAR GO SOUTH FOR THE WINTER?

If you are going to drive around in a tropical paradise from now until next June there is no reason why you should pay any attention to the following suggestions: Your car needs special preparation for winter just as much as you need a furnace fire, an overcoat, and all the other special equipment for freezing temperatures, ice, snow, slush and storm.

It will not only save you much money but assure safety and comfort on the road if you will now—without further delay—have your car checked over and prepared for the cold months ahead.

Most of our repair business all winter is on cars that were neglected in October. Owners could have saved about 90% of those bills by doing the obvious things before winter really arrived.

What are you going to do about it? Yes, indeed, we have everything necessary—this is a really up-to-date motor car maintenance establishment. Drive in any time.

Expect Poor Duck Hunting Until Mallard Flight

HAVANA, Ill. (P)—Duck hunting continues to be "pretty poor" in the Illinois and Mississippi River valleys and is not expected to improve until the big mallard flights arrive, possible next week, a state game specialist reported today.

Frank Bellore of the Illinois Natural History Survey said there are about 512,000 ducks in the two valleys but they are concentrated in a few areas. A year ago at this time there were 842,000 birds.

Bellore said the heavy concentrations are as Goose Pond near Putnam, on lakes between Bath and Sycamore and Swan lake at the mouth on the Illinois River near Grafton.

Most of the diving ducks are in the upper part of Peoria Lake, he said.

Ed Furgol Home; Seeks Medical Advice On Arm

ST. LOUIS (P)—Ed Furgol, national open golf champion, was home Tuesday to seek medical advice on his ailing arm and apprehensive "because everything hinges on getting this arm fixed."

Furgol, whose left arm is permanently stiff and 10 inches shorter than his right arm as a result of a childhood accident, injured his right arm during a driving exhibition in Sydney, Australia.

Three specialists in Australia told him, Furgol said, he might have to undergo surgery unless a gap in an arm muscle fills in. They told him he would be unable to play golf for three to six weeks.

Furgol said he was forced to forfeit an appearance guarantee at Sydney as a result of the injury and then had to cancel an exhibition he had scheduled in Hawaii on the return trip.

Furgol reported "100 per cent improvement" in the arm but said it is still concerning.

Furgol, after visiting a doctor here who told him his experience with such injuries is limited, admitted he was "satisfied about it now" and said the pain had mostly disappeared. "Last week, I couldn't even raise my right arm," he said. He practiced briefly.

Present Horse To Yonkers' Prexy

YONKERS, N. Y. (P)—First time, the first son of the great pacer Good Time, was presented Tuesday to William H. Cane, president of Yonkers Raceway and sponsor of the Hambletonian Trotting Classic.

The gift was made by Trainer-Driver Del Miller, who has a breeding farm at Meadow Lands, Pa.

"I heard that Mr. Cane was disappointed because his own mare bred to Good Time had produced only fillies and he had his heart set on a colt," Miller said. "Then this foal turned out so good I felt Mr. Cane should not be without a Good Time colt."

Cane bred and raced Good Time, who now stands at the stud at the Castleton Farm, Lexington, Ky. Good Time was, until recently, co-holder of the world record of 1:57 4/5 for a mile in a race on a mile track, and was the world's greatest money winning harness horse until Pronto Don passed the mark last month.

The Boston Bruins were the first United States team in the National Hockey League. They entered in 1924.

Shaw, Larson Top Season's Gridiron Statistical Race

NEW YORK (P)—George Shaw of Oregon and Paul Larson of California are making a private fight of this season's major college individual football offense statistical races, NCAA Service Bureau figures showed Tuesday.

Shaw leads in total offense with 1,048 yards while Larson is the leading passer with 68 completions, and each is the runner-up in the other department. Luppino is the top ball carrier with 713 yards rushing and Dawson moved into third place in total offense by producing the season's biggest one-game total Saturday, 286 yards against Michigan State.

Larson is the defending champion in total yardage, but he's not making much headway against Shaw, even though he's maintaining his own 1953 pace.

As a passer, Larson is showing unprecedented accuracy. With 104 attempts, he has a completion average of 65.4 per cent. No one else has ever had so high a percentage for 100 attempts, even temporarily. He's running ahead of the season record for a minimum of 100 at-

Ohio State, Oklahoma and UCLA ranked 1-2-3 Tuesday in the weekly Associated Press college football poll, and Coach Woody Hayes of the No. 1 team said "that's too bad."

Ohio State displaced Oklahoma leader in the nationwide balloting for the last three weeks, jumping all the way from fourth place on the strength of a 31-14 victory over Wisconsin.

"I know everyone is talking about national ratings and Rose Bowl and all those things, but to us the season is merely half over," said Hayes. "That's how we look at it. Four important ones yet to go."

The Ohio State coach infers that his team is right on the spot now. The Buckeyes meet Northwestern Saturday, and follow up with Pittsburgh, Purdue and Michigan.

A total of 214 sports and sports-casters voted in this week's poll, and Oklahoma received 74 first place ballots, 19 more than Ohio State. The Buckeyes, however, got 69 second place votes, 20 more than for Oklahoma.

On the basis of 10 points for first, 9 for second and on down the line, Ohio State ran up 1,858 points and Oklahoma totaled 1,834. UCLA, with 45 first place votes, had 1,600 points, to retain third place.

The three leaders were far ahead of the fourth team, Arkansas, with 1,351 points. Arkansas jumped from seventh after knocking off previously unbeaten Mississippi 6-0.

The only explanation for Oklahoma's drop to the No. 2 spot was the fact the Sooners didn't sparkle in a 21-0 victory over Kansas State while Ohio State was beating a team that many thought might win the Big Ten crown. UCLA won its sixth straight by rocking Oregon State 61-0.

Army advanced to the No. 5 spot from ninth, and West Virginia jumped from 16th to seventh. Notre Dame is sixth, Wisconsin eighth, Purdue ninth, and Miami of Florida 10th.

Ohio State is favored to defeat Northwestern, and in other games for the leaders this Saturday Oklahoma plays Colorado, a Big Seven toughie; UCLA meets always dangerous California; Arkansas plays Texas A&M; Army tackles Virginia; Notre Dame takes on Navy; West Virginia may have trouble with Pitt; Wisconsin encounters Iowa; Purdue meets Illinois, and Miami plays Fordham.

SPORTS TRAIL

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (P)—We took in the Army-Columbia football game last weekend and saw two fine teams. Unfortunately from the competitive standpoint both of them were Army.

We came away with the nagging idea that if the Army second team had been poured into the Columbia uniforms and sent against the Army first team, it would have been quite a contest, and we aren't sure which would have won.

Watching the Cadets win 67-12 and keeping in mind that the opposition was in the nature of a plunk setting to make even an ordinary jewel glitter brighter, it was difficult to imagine them taking a 34-20 pasting from South Carolina as they did in their first game.

For this Army squad is good. Maybe not as good as the Army teams of the Blanchard-Davis era, but good enough to take on any college team in the nation and have an even chance of winning.

You sense it as soon as you see the athletes hurry onto the field, their long, lean bodies trim and agile; every movement suggesting a drive, an urgency to get the job done.

You sense it when they go into their first hurdle, and the center breaks away to dash up and get over the ball in a startling, disconcerting move that expresses the "can wait" attitude of the whole team.

They run through you over you and around you with sheer exuberance, black and tackle with an undiluted zeal possibly prompted by the knowledge that if they don't there are others on the bench fairly itching to get in there and show what they can do.

This may sound like a sophomoric appraisal of Earl Black's Black Knights, but that's the way they impress you, and we believe Michigan and Duke, two pretty fair football teams would not argue too much about it.

There are standouts, sure. You won't see many better ends than Don Hollender, six feet and two inches of controlled violence. Or many slicker ball handlers than Pete Vann.

But it is the team as a unit which impresses you. When driving, high-stepping 18-year-old back named Dick Murland, from Greensburg, Pa., catches your eye and you realize he's just an unsung back on the second team you get the idea of the class of material at Black's disposal.

With Army rolling along in high gear and Navy showing flashes of power the situation is building up to a tremendous head-on collision when the two service schools meet in Philadelphia Nov. 27.

Usually, on the records, one of the teams is the favorite, although that doesn't necessarily mean anything. The supposedly feeble team often plays better than it knows now and wins. When both are good, as they seem to be this year, it would take a brave man indeed to name the winner.

There doesn't seem to be a team remaining on the schedule, other than Navy, with a chance of stopping Army from here on in, and if the Cadets should get by Navy what a plum they would be if some bowl committee, say the Sugar Bowl, landed them for a New Year's day game!

Maybe there isn't a chance, but the Army brass isn't adverse to a little publicity for the service in these cold war days, and Black's regions would uphold the prestige of West Point admirably.

As might be gathered, they are a pretty fair football team, also indicated when the Columbia man saving out the statistics after the game announced, "yards gained rushing, Army 832, Columbia 63," then added plaintively, "do I have to repeat that?"

Smith played what Baylor Coach George Sauer called "the finest game of his career" against Texas A&M. He recovered a fumble to set up a touchdown and was the big man in Baylor's goal line stand that threw the Aztecs back 13 yards on four plays.

Other plays recommended for linemen of the week honors included: Center—Don Wilson, Rice; Guards—Bob Pelletier, Maryland; Thorne Shultz, Yale; Jim Van Buren, Cornell; Bud Brooks, Arkansas.

Tackles—Jack Ellena, UCLA; Ends—Bob Nolan, Miami; Bradley Mills, Kentucky; Carl Anson, Oklahoma; Jim Pugh, Auburn; Ron Beagle, Navy; Don Hollender, Army.

Hal Easterwood Voted Lineman Of The Week

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hal Easterwood, Mississippi State's center who apparently takes special pride in dumping Alabama players for losses, earned the designation as Associated Press Lineman of the Week for his terrific defensive play against the Crimson Tide last Saturday.

Easterwood, who played a great game when Mississippi State tied Alabama a year ago, was even better as he engineered a 12-7 upset victory last week.

For that performance, sports writers and broadcasters singled him out ahead of Ohio State end Dean Dinger, who did an outstanding all-around job in the big game against Wisconsin, Baylor tackle James Ray Smith and a flock of other line men.

Easterwood, a 190-pound 21-year-old senior, stopped Alabama three times inside the 20-yard line to clinch State's first triumph over the Tide in 13 years. He threw a 14-yard pass to a 12-yard loss, Alabama came back to the Mississippi State 10 and stalled there when Easterwood stopped two running plays.

Easterwood did it again in the third period when he dropped Elmore for an 11-yard loss after Alabama had reached the 20, and in the final period, with the ball on the State 16, the speech-impaired Elmore seven yards back to check the final threat.

Dinger, who wears contact lenses while playing and thick specs off the field, played a slightly tremendous game against Wisconsin both on offense and defense. He kicked off for the Buckeyes, caught one pass for nine yards, rushed the Wisconsin passers and stopped two running plays for big losses when Wisconsin still was in a threatening position.

Smith played what Baylor Coach George Sauer called "the finest game of his career" against Texas A&M. He recovered a fumble to set up a touchdown and was the big man in Baylor's goal line stand that threw the Aztecs back 13 yards on four plays.

As the grid season starts down its final stretch the old injury jinx begins to take its toll. The hardest hit among the local teams is the Jacksonville High Crimson. Sophomore end Jerry Samples suffered a broken leg in the Freshman-Sophomore game last night against Rushville. This brings to three the number of Crimson in the hospital.

Samples had been playing with the varsity and his loss will be felt even more now that Hudson is out for the year. The Senior end, who re-injured his right knee in the Feithsams game, will be lost for the season. He along with Larry Knight gave Bob Kraushaar a pair of the finest offensive and defensive flankers the school has had for many a moon.

Joining Hudson and Samples in the hospital is Danny Fortado. The freshman back broke the big bone in his right leg in a practice session Friday. Speaking of the fresh-soph squad, it's good to see the boys come through and whip Rushville. It was the first loss of the year for the Rushville eleven. This should indicate the local boys have come around. The backs looked better and the line certainly has improved.

This line in particular is what catches coach Bob Kraushaar's eye. He loses the entire varsity forward wall with the exception of Prather and the coach is anxiously watching to see what he has coming up. This is a good chance for some of the younger boys to really shine.

Out at IC coach Al Miller reported yesterday that halfback Ken Vlerok is out for the season. The hard running speedster from Harvard, Illinois, has two broken ribs and the risk is too great to warrant his playing any more this year. This is a terrific blow to the small in numbers Bluejay backfield.

The other two coaches, Jim Spink and Jim Smarjesse, have more encouraging news. They came out of their games in fine style—both physically and in the scoring column. I. S. D. captain Dick Thrash, who was nursing a bad ankle, played a little in the Ohio game Saturday but his action and the entire first team's line was limited. None of the front liners played more than a quarter holding down the score. In fact the Tiger mentor has had this trouble all year, except in the 41-0 Sterling game. His first team has played less than the second. We know a lot of coaches who would like to have this trouble.

Smarjesse's Rockets are all in top shape after handing Bluffs their first beating in two years. This win gives the Routt club a shot at the P. M. B. C. crown. The only team standing in its way is Chanderville. The two teams get together Friday in the game that should put the clincher on the title.

Jacksonville had a distinguished visitor Friday night. Yankee outfielder Enos Slaughter stopped at a local service station on his way to his home in Belleville. The "old warhorse" took a few minutes to talk baseball with Stan Spots and Bob Lewis. The former Cardinal great said he felt bad about leaving the Cards but the Yanks were really a great organization and Casey Stengel was "the greatest."

He thinks Mantle is a good ball player and should be great in a few years. When asked if he was going to play next year, the warhorse informed his listeners he would play as long as he could put on a uniform. He was also asked to give his opinion on the controversial Williams-Mustal debate. After a little thought, he said he would have to go along with Mustal. He said he would be back some time the first of this week on the way to his duck hunting headquarters near Havana.

The action apparently removed one of the main blocks in the contemplated sale of the suburban Chicago track for $2,278,919 to former Illinois Governor John Stolle.

In his recommendation, O'Toole said that a petition for the injunction "does not show in evidence that the trustees are acting unjustly in selling the track or that the price is inadequate or unreasonable."

The injunction was sought by Peter O'Neill, beneficiary of a trust which includes 48,000 of the 112,500 shares of common stock of the track.

He has sued the executors of the trust, Charles Aaron and Frances Polley, charging mismanagement and asking an accounting.

O'Neill asked for the temporary injunction in order to prevent sale of the shares held in trust while his suit was progress.

ASLEEP ON HIS FEET DAYTON, Ohio (P)—Flagpole stander Richard (Dixie) Blandy, queried on how he slept during his "world record" 9-day, 21-hour sojourn 50 feet up on an 18-inch platform, stonically replied: "Like a stone I slept on one foot."

4 Davis Cup Members Leave For Australia

NEW YORK (P)—Four members of the United States Davis Cup tennis team will leave Los Angeles Nov. 5 for Sydney, Australia, where they will enter the New South Wales championships.

The United States Lawn Tennis Assn. announced Tuesday that the party will not include Vic Seixas, national singles champion, or Captain Bill Talbert. Seixas has commitments in Philadelphia. Talbert is hospitalized.

The traveling party will include Tony Trabert, Ham Richardson, Jerry Moss and Mike Green. Moss is the current U. S. junior champion; Green was a finalist in the U. S. junior tournament.

Seixas and Talbert are expected to join the group in Australia in time for the Victorian championships in Melbourne Nov. 25.

Even A Philadelphia Lawyer Finds It Hard To Explain A's 'Sale'

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA (P)—The eight-man Philadelphia syndicate seeking to purchase the Philadelphia Athletics should learn Thursday if its bid has succeeded or failed.

President Will Harridge of the American League announced Tuesday that club owners would meet at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel in New York at 9:30 a. m. (CST) to consider the sale of the Philadelphia club stock.

Roy Mack, who is representing his family in the sale, will be on hand presumably to ask the league to approve the sale of the franchise to the prominent Philadelphians.

Just what will happen at the league meeting Thursday, not even a Philadelphia lawyer was prepared to say.

Several of the lawyers involved in a proposed sale—and they outnumber the would-be owners—said they don't know what to think. Or at least they weren't saying so if they did know.

Everybody connected with the deal sat back and waited. All sources here agreed that the next move is up to the league and its president.

The contract of sale is signed, so they say. The purchase money is in escrow in a midtown bank, so they say.

Nobody doubts that all this is true, but the complexity of this story has changed so often that observers are beginning to wonder if they can tell black from white even when they see it.

The latest rumor, fresh in from Baltimore, said that the A's are again headed toward Kansas City Sports Editor Jesse A. Lintinich of the Baltimore Sun wrote Tuesday that "Roy Mack is reported to be backing out of the deal to sell the A's franchise to an eight man Philadelphia syndicate."

Lintinich quoted a reliable source which he did not name. "According to reliable information," wrote Lintinich, "Kansas City seem certain now to get the franchise. The situation is in such a state of chaos at this stage that Harridge may step in within 24 hours and call the hands of all concerned."

Mack didn't offer any comment; attorneys for the Philadelphia syndicate merely shrugged, said nothing.

If Harridge doesn't step in and make a decision, the Philadelphia group will be on the spot. Unless the American League approves the local syndicate by 3 p. m. Friday, the contract of sale to the Philadelphia syndicate goes out the window.

Chicago Businessman Arnold Johnson, who once thought he had bought the A's for transfer to Kansas City only to lose out apparently to the Philadelphia group, came back into the picture Tuesday with an announcement from Chicago he also would be on hand in New York Thursday for the league meeting.

Johnson said he was "still interested" in buying the franchise. "I'll put up the money," said Johnson. "I still think Kansas City is the only logical place to move the A's."

In 1937 when Delaware Park first operated, revenue to the state from that racing meeting amounted to $225,674. In 1954 the track's thoroughbred race meeting produced a record $1,640,449 for the state's coffers.

"We Still Aren't Blocking Well, Tackling Shoddy", Says Illini Coach Eliot

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. Oct. 26—Illinois today began preparations for a Big Ten battle against Purdue at Lafayette Saturday with hopes that Coach Ray Eliot's squad will be in top physical shape for the first time this season.

Coming out of the Syracuse game with no injuries of any consequence, the squad should be bolstered by return of Gary Francis, sophomore end from Bloomington, and Mike Guinan, a sophomore center from Chicago (Mt. Carmel). Francis suffered a sprained ankle in the Minnesota tilt and has been sidelined for a week; Guinan has been out two weeks with a shoulder bruise.

Even the return of all his squad to good physical shape "offers no reason for any optimism about our game with Purdue," Eliot said. "Movies of the Syracuse contest didn't offer much encouragement as far as general improvement is concerned."

"We still are not blocking well, and tackling has been shoddy especially on kick returns. The club is coming along slowly, but I'm afraid not fast enough to hope to have much chance against Purdue."

Eliot plans to stay with the line-up which started against Syracuse, except that Francis might return to No. 1 left end if he is in top notch shape, supplanting Dean Renn, West Frankfort junior. He'll team with Steve Nosek, senior from Chicago (Taft).

Percy Oliver, sophomore from Miami, Fla., evidently has won the starting left tackle post on basis of his aggressive play and Bucky Tate, New Castle, Pa., senior, will remain at right tackle.

Jan Smid, River Grove, and Wally Vernasco, Mishawaka, Ind., are fixtures at guard as is Jack Chamblin, Robinson, at center. This trio has played virtually without relief in Illinois five games.

Eliot plans to string along with Em Lindbeck, Kewanee junior, at quarterback since Em's all-around play against Syracuse was best of the year. Em completed four of six passes for 111 yards and returned an Orange Kick off for 16 yards.

New York Stock Market

By RADER WINGET

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market struggled through Tuesday's session in a tired manner and finally ended lower.

At one time it looked as though the market would rally with enough force to end higher. The effort failed.

All eyes were focused on the steel division Tuesday. It was weak Monday but Tuesday it did well most of the time.

At the close it was somewhat mixed with price changes mostly in the minor fractions.

After the close, U. S. Steel reported third quarter earnings of $1.44 a share as compared with $1.22 a year ago. Directors declared the usual dividend of 75 cents a share. The stock closed at 59 1/2. It had a high-low of 59 1/2-58 1/2.

Jones & Laughlin declared the usual dividend of 50 cents and closed off 1/4 at 26 1/2.

All day the market was backed with changes resulting from dividend announcements and earnings reports. No severe upsets resulted.

In the mixed category, rubbers, chemicals, coppers, and radio-televisions.

Lower were the aircraft, railroads, utilities, movie issues, and the mail order issues.

Airlines were higher with the inspiration of United Air Lines up 1 at 20 3/4, reporting a good increase in third quarter earnings.

Also ahead were the farm implements and many of the oils.

The Associated Press said 60 stocks lost 30 cents at 5:30 p.m. It was down $1.10 Monday.

The industrial and railroad components each lost 30 cents, and utilities were down 20 cents.

The market was relatively narrow with 1,162 individual issues traded of which 427 advanced and 462 declined. Thirty-eight stocks touched new highs for the year during the session, and six reached new lows.

Volume was moderate at 2,610,000 shares as compared with 2,610,000 shares traded Monday.

The American Stock Exchange was mixed on volume of 630,000 shares. That compares with 630,000 shares traded Monday.

Higher stocks included Fairchild Camera, Imperial Oil, Pepperell, Kidder, and Savre & Fisher Brick.

Lower were Stinnes, Brown Co., Creole Petroleum, Maroon Power Shovel, New Jersey Zinc, and Niles-Bement-Pond.

Bonds eased irregularly. U. S. government issues in the over the counter market were unchanged to lower.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

WEATHER AGAIN UP'S BEAN, CORN PRICES

By WILLIAM FERRIS

CHICAGO (AP)—A hefty demand for soybeans and corn lifted those cereals sharply on the Board of Trade Tuesday. Other grains also were higher most of the day, although wheat fell back just before the close.

Soybeans had gains extending to 10 cents, the daily limit, at one time. A slight amount of profit taking at the finish cut prices back a few cents from their highs. Corn also suffered a slight dip from best levels at the close.

Wheat closed 1/4 lower to 1/4 higher, corn 2 1/4 higher, oats 1/4 higher, rye 1/4 higher, soybeans 1/4 to 8 cents higher and laid 20 to 50 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Weather was the main factor behind the sharp gains in both soybeans and corn. Moisture was reported from many sections of the Midwest and the Weather Bureau's five day outlook indicated there would be a good deal of moisture the rest of the week.

The moisture will delay harvesting, thereby restricting the amount of hedging pressure the market will have to absorb. This fact caused some previous short sellers to get out of their positions.

Another factor behind the strength in soybeans was the very strong producer withholding movement. The American Soybean Growers Assn. said it continued to hear reports that a very high percentage of soybeans were being stored—as much as 75 per cent in Illinois, Ohio and Minnesota but not quite as much in Iowa.

Export business also helped the market, although there was more potential business of this nature than actual. Formosa bought 350,000 bushels of soybeans and Portugal 335,000 bushels of red wheat. Great Britain and Holland took small quantities of corn.

A news dispatch said Turkish officials would come to the United States, near-failure of the Turkish wheat crop. It was said Turkey wanted 18 1/2 million bushels of wheat. Several foreign countries reportedly were asking for flour.

The advance brought about a number of new seasonal highs—May and July wheat; July corn; December, March and May oats; and July soybeans. Both cash bean oil and meal firms. The meal sold at $65.00 a ton, up $2.00 from Monday.

New York Bond Market

By ARTHUR MERIMS

NEW YORK (AP)—The bond market eased irregularly Tuesday as the "Big Board" sales declined to $2,690,000 par value from $3,810,000 Monday as individuals tilted the corporate list downward. Railroads also tended to slip. But utilities remained steady.

U. S. government bonds were unchanged to lower in sluggish over the counter dealings. Foreign liens were subject to profit taking, especially the recently advancing German and Italian bonds.

Madness In The Spring

By Elinore Denniston
Copyright 1954 by Elinore Denniston. Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Greg Sawyer does not seem to fit anywhere because he is so overeducated by his vigorous, dogmatic stepfather Horace Crain, manufacturer of Crain's Canned Cornbread, and his absurdly young and decorative mother. Since getting out of the Army, Greg has been employed by his stepfather, but now Greg feels the first urge to revolt. Oddly, this feeling comes with the first signs of spring.

IN crime it is the first step that counts. The torn pages scattered on the carpet represented the rejection, the overthrow, of the way they expect you to do things.

That morning Greg did not go laboriously through the News of the Week section in order to Keep Up with Current Events. This procedure was recommended by his stepfather who found it the most useful way of starting conversations. Instead, he read avidly every word about a mysterious disappearance that would probably turn out to be a murder.

Things happen to other people, Greg thought. Nothing ever happens to me. Not that he wanted to be involved in murder; he just wanted to be involved in something.

The sky was dark gray and the rain fell monotonously; one of those sudden, dreary March rains that turn the crusted snow into dirty pools of water. Late March in New York City was a mass of slush underfoot and leaden skies, smelling of wet coats and galoshes; a slovenly old man who had outstayed his welcome. All week you looked forward to Sunday and then what could you do? He picked up the Saturday Review and flicked the pages. Among the personals his eye fell on an advertisement.

WANTED: College graduate with high hopes and no experience wants interesting job. Greg snorted. Interesting job? That showed he had no experience.

TWENTY-SIX stories below the window where Greg's desk was placed inside beaverboard partitions on the big left floor that housed the clerical staff of Crain's Canned Cornbread, the river, which began as a stream above Albany, flowed majestically between New Jersey and Manhattan, and eventually went out to sea. In the summer it was a deep sparkling blue; in winter a gray turbid mass with floating ice cakes.

On Monday mornings Greg started the week right by turning his back squarely to the window but by Friday afternoon he found it increasingly difficult to concentrate on charting the rise and fall of cornbread sales in B income groups. Instead, he watched the tugboats, ferries, freighters.

AT that time he was lucky. Horace Crain had the job waiting when Greg got out of the Army. A nice job. Nice people too. And his mother had been right. Why look around for something to suit him when Horace could handle it? She did not say Horace could handle it better. That was unnecessary.

Greg was doing all right. His Army severance pay had been banked. His stepfather wanted him to invest it but Greg kept making excuses. He liked knowing the money was where he could get at it.

His own money. And then he sat bolt upright, his mouth half open in sheer astonishment. He had gone to work for Crain's Canned Cornbread to please his stepfather but he did not have to stay to please anyone. He was free to strike out, to try something else.

The idea was more than he could absorb at once. He thought it over, savored it. Free. The word was less exhilarating than

Then — when she's an inch beyond his right front fender he takes off and almost takes said pedestrian's coat-tails with him.

Local Teachers Tell Society Of Trip To Europe

Lambda chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, met Thursday evening, Oct. 21, at the Central high building in Springfield. The topic of the program for the evening was "Our Trip to Europe." Three Jacksonville members of the chapter delighted the members showing color slides and informal discussion of their experiences about their trip last summer abroad.

Miss Mabel Ruyie served as chairman and called first on Mrs. Mildred Eubank Vasey and Miss Grace Fitch who collaborated on showing and explaining the slides which included beautiful three-dimensional views of the United Nations building, scenes of Windsor Castle, English gardens, Shakespeare country, Warwick Castle, the White Cliffs of Dover, Belgium, Holland, Germany, the Bavarian Alps, Black Forest, Austria and Italy and particularly of Venice and Rome.

Miss Ruyie then spoke of a few of her experiences and impressions received when visiting her niece in Bavaria, stressing two particular ones in great contrast to each other: a beautiful religious procession and the demonstration of the armed might of the United States Army stationed there. Then she took the group with her verbally as she flew from Munich to Paris, attended a class at the Sorbonne, made up of many people from many countries who lived in the student group homes. Miss Ruyie's report on some experiences off the beaten tourist path in Paris were a highlight to the program. She closed with some reflections on Spain which she also visited just before returning to the States.

Zoning Laws Of Service To All, Says Inspector

Clarence Woolen, newly-appointed city building inspector, said Tuesday he believes there would be fewer problems if from out in erection or remodeling of buildings if the public had a better understanding of the object and effect of the zoning ordinance.

"I am sure everyone is interested in the future of Jacksonville, and everyone is entitled to all available information pertaining to its welfare. Woolen prepared the following statement concerning the zoning ordinance and its functions:

Your City being a permanent investment, your Mayor and City Council, in 1950 adopted a zoning ordinance or land use ordinance. The use of land through zoning is a most important function of local government in a city as the type and intensity of land use form the basic community pattern.

"A reasonable but relatively stringent control is necessary for the purpose of promoting and encouraging private development. If there is no consistent community control of land use, there is no method whereby a man who desires to erect a building can ascertain the character of the environment upon which the building will be so dependent. Where land use is not controlled under reasonable and sound zoning regulations the character of the future environment of any building can be ascertained with considerable accuracy, and the man buying or building a house or investing money in commercial or industrial enterprise can proceed with confidence.

"Reasonable land use control consequently is not only essential in order that a desirable and sound community may result but also in order that the individual citizens who build the different parts of the City can proceed with a confidence unimpaired by any doubts regarding the future city land use pattern.

"Before adopting the present zoning or land use ordinance, the Mayor and City Council, with the aid of experts, made a survey and analysis of existing land use in the city and its environs, estimates of future population of the city and of future land use areas required by this population.

"The Mayor and City Council believe the zoning and land use ordinance as adopted, to be very beneficial to all present and future citizens of Jacksonville.

"In order to support the control of the zoning ordinance, a nominal fee of Two Dollars ($2.00) per Thousand Dollar ($1,000.00) value has been established, and is contained in and as part of the ordinance."

Arrangements have been made for the annual Halloween Parade for the children in Jacksonville and the community sponsored by the Exchange Club. The parade will be held Thursday evening, October 28, with parade formation starting at 6:15 p.m. on the block on South Church street between West State street and West College avenue.

The parade will march promptly at 7 p.m. taking a comparatively new route. The procession, accompanied by members of the Exchange Club, will proceed up newly paved Morgan street to the square, around the square and down West State street to Dunlap Court, turning south for one block to the ramp to be constructed where the former Julien Sandwich Shop was located.

In case of rain by 6:15 Thursday night there will be no parade and all costumed children may gather at the David Prince Junior high school for judging of costumes and awarding of prizes. Clyde Fitch will be in charge of arrangements at the gym if it is raining.

The general chairman for the parade this year is Mike Reynolds, assisted by Clarence Richardson, honorary chairman. There are four judges: Paul Knox, Paul Wahl, Jim Stubbetien and Sonny Grant.
